

DEFACTO REGIME OPENS WAR ON BANDIT VILLA

At Least Three Generals Sent Into Mountains to Hunt Him

AMERICANS ARE SAFE

Report That Two Men Had Been Seized At Jimenez Incorrect, Says State Department

El Paso, Texas, May 27.—The de facto government of Mexico has begun its threatened campaign against Francisco Villa.

Advices received here today indicated that at least three commands have been sent into the mountains of the Parral district to hunt down the bandit, and that Villa has ahead of him the fastest dodging of his career if he is to escape the cordon of troops closing in on his band.

With forces under Generals Ignacio Enriquez and Marcelo Caraveo already in the field, it is reported that General J. Gonzalez Escobar, newly appointed military commander of the state of Chihuahua, started toward El Valle from Jimenez last night with 1,000 men.

Villa Won't Yield to Persuasion.

Further efforts to persuade Villa to lay down his arms would be futile, according to General Ignacio Enriquez, commander of the Chihuahua Defense Forces, who telegraphed the Mexican consulate here today that the de facto government can settle the Villa problem only by force of arms.

General Enriquez had been asked by the consulate to confirm the report that Homer Carr, of the American Smelting and Refining company, had been taken from a train at Jimenez by Villista soldiers.

"I do not know if the American you refer to has been captured by Villa," he wired in reply. "Mr. Miller, manager of the Alvarado Mining company, was released by him, but he wants to exact $50,000 from the company. Otherwise he threatens to cut off its electric current."

Villa Pretends to Head State.

"Yesterday I had a telegraphic conference with Villa and I was convinced it is impossible to make any arrangements whatever. He pretends to be commander-in-chief of the state."

"Chieftains under Villa are ready to surrender. The only way open to the government is to fight Villa."

Operations of the Alvarado Mining and Milling company have been suspended since May 22 because of the company's refusal to pay a $50,000 "protection tax" to Villa, according to an announcement made here today by T. G. Hawkins, jr., vice president in charge of operations.

Americans Not Seized.

Washington, May 27.—The state department announced today that the report that two Americans, Bernard MacDonald and Homer Carr, had been seized at Jimenez, Mexico, was incorrect.

New President on Way to Capital.

El Paso, May 27.—Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president of Mexico, left Mazatlan for Manzanillo today aboard the gunboat Guerrero, according to a dispatch received at the Mexican consulate here. He is en route to Mexico City.

The same dispatch reported that rebel forces of Cruz Medina, having acknowledged the Agua Prieta covenant, are at Mazatlan and that General Roberto Cruz has been appointed chief of military operations at Nayarit.

WOOL FROM WHITE HOUSE SHEEP PRESENTED TO SALVATION ARMY

New York, May 27.—Wool sheared several days ago from the White House sheep has been presented by President Wilson to the Salvation Army.

News of the gift was received by the headquarters of the Salvation Army here today in a letter from Joseph P. Tumulty, the President's secretary.

After the sheep were sheared, removal of the flock from the White House lawn was considered. The Salvation Army offered the use of its farm for drug addicts at Tappan, N. Y., as summer quarters for the animals. Mr. Tumulty replied, stating that their removal was no longer considered necessary and closed by offering the wool to the Salvation Army as a gift from the President.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TAKES NO ACTION ON IRISH RECOGNITION

Washington, May 27.—After a three hour wrangle the House foreign affairs committee adjourned until tomorrow without taking final action on a resolution providing for virtual recognition of the provisional Irish republic.

A resolution by Representative Fess, Republican of Ohio, declaring that future peace of the world would be additionally safeguarded by establishment in Ireland of a government of her own choice was rejected 10 to 2.

SAYS HANNA PROMISED GEN. WOOD $500,000

John T. King Tells Senate Committee of Campaign—Other Candidates Investigated

Washington, May 27.—Senate investigation into pre-convention expenditures in behalf of presidential candidates today brought forth information as to plans to put W. G. McAdoo's name before the Democratic national convention, and an assertion from John T. King, original manager of Major General Leonard Wood's campaign, that Dan R. Hanna of Cleveland, early in the General's campaign, had promised "to go out and gather in $500,000." In reply to questions, Mr. King said he did not know whether the money was received.

Testimony as to three presidential candidates whose expenditures the committee inspected for the first time, was presented showing that $115,199 had been contributed for Senator Harding of Ohio, $68,375 for Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, and $40,550 for Nicholas Murray Butler of New York, all Republicans.

In respect to the candidacy of Mr. McAdoo, Dr. Burris Jenkins, publisher of the Kansas City Post, told the committee that he had come to Washington for a conference last night with J. M. Shouse, assistant secretary of the navy; Daniel C. Roper, former commissioner of internal revenue; Commissioner Robert Woolley, of the Interstate Commerce commission, and Frank Wilson, former director of Liberty Loan publicity.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 27.—D. R. Hanna tonight issued the following statement concerning the testimony of John T. King of Connecticut today before the senate investigating committee at Washington:

"Mr. King's statement of my agreeing to raise $500,000 for General Wood's campaign is a gross misrepresentation."

"It is true that I did, at General Wood's suggestion, ask Mr. King if he would undertake the management of General Wood's pre-nomination campaign. I also, through a mutual friend, arranged with Mr. King to meet the general in New York."

"This was accomplished and Mr. King established headquarters and commenced the formation of an organization. Since then I have not had any active connection with General Wood's campaign or Mr. King's work. I have contributed $6,000 toward the expenses of General Wood's campaign in the Cleveland congressional districts. That is the total of my contributions to the entire Wood campaign."

CONFEREES OPPOSE N. G. FEDERALIZATION

The Army Reorganization Bill Emerges From Conference Shorn Of Several Senate Proposals

Washington, May 27.—The army reorganization bill emerged from conference today shorn of senate proposals for federalization of the National guard, for a voluntary universal training system, and for automatic revival of the war-time selective service act on declaration of a war emergency.

As agreed to by the conferees, the bill provides for a peace-time regular army of 297,000 officers and men, including the Philippine scouts; for continuation of the National guard substantially as on the present basis, and for the organization of an enlisted reserve corps liable for 15 days of training duty a year, except in case of war emergency.

The senate proposal to create the post of under secretary of war, to have charge of procurement of war supplies, was accepted in substance by placing this duty on the assistant secretary at an increased salary of $19,920 a year. The assistant secretary will function as a business manager.

The bill also creates within the department a permanent war council composed of the secretary, assistant secretary, the general of the army, and the chief of staff, which will determine military and munition problems.

Senate provisions reconstructing the general staff of French army lines and maintaining separate branches of the air service, signal corps and chemical warfare section, were retained.

HIGHER WHEAT MARKET.

Minneapolis, May 27.—A higher wheat market in the past two days was reflected in an advance of 25 cents a barrel for flour at one of the mills here today. Family patents in carload lots in 34 pound cotton sacks were quoted at $14.55 a barrel at this place.

Another large mill which has been selling this grade of flour at a slightly higher price, kept their quotations unchanged today.

POLES REPULSE BOLSHEVISTS.

Warsaw, May 27.—The Bolsheviks in strength forced a passage of the Berezina river south of Borisov, but the Poles by a concentric attack recrossed the river, cutting off the enemy's retreat, and took hundreds of prisoners," says an official communication issued today. The remainder of the enemy took refuge in the forest behind the Polish front.

WILSON REJECTS PEACE PLAN AS 'INCONCEIVABLE'

Says It Would Place An 'Ineffaceable Stain' on Nation's Honor

VETO DOOMS MEASURE

Both Senate and House Lack Enough Votes to Pass Resolu- tion Over President

Washington, May 27.—President Wilson vetoed the peace resolution today and informed congress he could not become a party to the peace program framed by Republican leaders of the senate and house because he considered it would place "an ineffaceable stain" on the nation's honor.

To establish technical peace by such a method, the President said in his veto message, would be to effect "a complete surrender of the rights of the United States as far as Germany is concerned," and to relinquish all the high purposes which led the nation into war and which were embodied in the rejected treaty of Versailles.

The President's act apparently brought to another and final deadlock the efforts of the present administration and congress to agree on a peace settlement. Republican leaders conceded they had no chance of passing the resolution over the executive's veto, though an attempt will be made in the house tomorrow; and on both sides it was predicted that the issue of the treaty controversy would have to be fought out in the political campaign, with Democrats and Republicans blaming each other for the failure to consummate a state of peace.

Shall U. S. Desert Allies?

In his message, the President did not indicate whether he might again submit the treaty to the senate for ratification, but he said the resolution raised again the question of whether the United States cared to draw apart from the rest of the world or to join with other nations in attaining the ends to which the treaty was framed.

The veto had been expected by the Republican leaders and they made plans to close the incident promptly by a record vote on re passage of the resolution. The message first went to the house, where its reading was greeted with cheers by the Democrats and derision by Republicans. Without discussion it was agreed to take a vote at noon tomorrow.

The general prediction on the Republican side was that the resolution would fall short by only a few votes of the two-thirds necessary to re pass it. In the senate, however, it was conceded that the prospect was altogether hopeless, the Democrats standing almost solidly with the President.

For the most part, senate and house leaders refrained from comment on the President's action. The general tenor of the talk on the Republican side, however, was that the executive and not congress now must bear the responsibility if the nation continued technically at war, while among Democrats it was reiterated that the national bill would hold the Republican senate to account for the failure to ratify the treaty.

Representative Fess of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, declared in a formal statement that the President alone was to blame and that the people were with the Republican leaders in their attempts to end through the resolution an "intolerable situation."

The President's Veto Message.

The President's message follows: "To the House of Representatives: 'I return herewith, without my signature, House joint resolution No. 327, intended to repeal the joint resolution of April 6, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the United States and Germany, and the joint resolution of December 7, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the United States and the Austro-Hungarian government, and to declare a state of peace.'

"I have not felt at liberty to sign this joint resolution because I cannot bring myself to become party to an action which would place an ineffaceable stain upon the gallantry and honor of the United States. The resolution seeks to establish peace with the German empire without exacting from the German government any action by way of setting right the infinite wrongs which it did to the peoples whom it attacked and whom we professed it our purpose to assist when we entered the war."

Have We Sacrificed for Nothing?

"Have we sacrificed the lives of more than 100,000 Americans and ruined the lives of thousands of others and brought upon thousands of American families an unhappiness that can never end for purposes which we do not now care to state or take further steps to attain? The attainment of these purposes is provided for in the treaty of Versailles by terms deemed adequate by the leading statesmen and experts of all the great peoples who were associated in the war against Germany. Do we now not care to join in the effort to secure them?"

"We entered the war most reluctantly. Our people were profoundly disinclined to take part in a European war, and at last did so, only because

Presbyterians Vote to Quit Interchurch Body

Philadelphia, May 27.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, in session here, voted unanimously today to terminate its relations with the Interchurch World movement.

Des Moines, Ia., May 27.—Approval of the plan of the Interchurch World movement, was expressed today by the Methodist Episcopal general conference when it adopted at its closing session the report of a special committee to that effect. The conference also recommended that the membership of the church assist in the further canvass contemplated by the movement. Further relations of the conference and church to the movement were left to the board of bishops with power to act.

they became convinced that it could not in truth be regarded as only a European war, but must be regarded as a war in which civilization itself was involved and human rights of every kind as against a belligerent government. Moreover, when we entered the war we set forth very definitely the purposes for which we entered, partly because we did not wish to be considered as merely taking part in a European contest.

"This joint resolution which I return does not seek to accomplish any of these objects, but in effect makes a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as the German government is concerned."

Versailles Treaty Upheld.

"A treaty of peace was signed at Versailles on the 28th of June last, which did seek to accomplish the objects which we had declared to be in our minds, because all the great governments and peoples which united against Germany had adopted our declarations of purpose as their own and had in solemn form embodied them in communications to the German government preliminary to the armistice of November 11, 1918. But the treaty as signed at Versailles has been rejected by the senate of the United States, though it has been ratified by Germany. By that rejection and by its methods we had in effect declared that we wish to draw apart and pursue objects and interests of our own, unhampered by any connections of interest or of purpose with other governments and peoples."

"Notwithstanding the fact that upon our entrance into the war we professed to assist in the maintenance of common interest, nothing is said in this resolution about the freedom of navigation upon the seas, or the reduction of armaments, or the vindication of the rights of Belgium, or the rectification of wrongs done to France, or the release of the Christian populations of the Ottoman empire from the intolerable subjugation which they have had for so many generations to endure, or the establishment of an independent Polish state, or the continued maintenance of any kind of understanding among the great powers of the world which would be calculated to prevent in the future such outrages as Germany attempted, and in part consummated."

International Obligations Rejected.

"We have now in effect declared that we do not care to take any further risks or to assume any further responsibilities with regard to the freedom of nations or the sacredness of international obligations or the safety of independent peoples."

"Such a peace with Germany—a peace in which none of the essential interests which we had at heart when we entered the war are safeguarded—is, or ought to be, inconceivable; is inconsistent with the dignity of the United States, with the rights and liberties of her citizens and with the very fundamental conditions of civilization."

"I hope that in these statements I have sufficiently set forth the reasons why I have felt it incumbent upon me to withhold my signature."

—Woodrow Wilson.

CANADA'S REPARATION CLAIM AGAINST HUNS $1,871,000,000

Ottawa, May 27.—Canada's reparation claim against Germany amounts to $1,871,000,000. This was made known here today with the announcement that it had been forwarded to England for presentation at the conference of representatives of all parts of the British Empire in London, and subsequently at an inter-allied conference at Spa, Germany.

The claim is for losses sustained by the country and its citizens, and includes: Cost of war and demobilization, $1,715,000,000; reparation allowances, $55,000,000; Halifax losses, $50,000,000; army of occupation, $5,000,000, and illegal warfare, $1,000,000.

TWO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR.

Ossining, May 27.—Walter Levandowski and Leo Jandowski were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison tonight. Both men were convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of John Gunther, a keeper in the Dannemora state hospital. They were convicted originally of homicide in another case and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment in Auburn prison. Later they were transferred to Dannemora, where they attacked Gunther.

PLAN TO KEEP DRY ISSUE OUT OF CONVENTION

Republican Party Leaders Against Mention- ing Prohibition

CANDIDATES ACTIVE

Open Their Final Drive to Cap- ture 493 Votes That Spell Victory in Convention

Chicago, May 27.—Beer, light wines and prohibition will not be mentioned in the Republican National convention if present plans of party leaders are carried out, it was learned today.

Directors of the party's policies have decided that the questions have been settled, and neither a wet nor a dry plank, nor endorsement of any modification of the present bone dry rule, will be incorporated in the platform, according to Samuel A. Perkins, national committeeman from Washington.

Prohibition Question Long Considered.

The prohibition question and its possible effects on the forthcoming presidential campaign has been under consideration by party leaders for several months, it is known. The matter was discussed at national committee meetings as far back as last January.

One member of the national committee who is here, said today that the committeemen believed the wets to be in the minority, and that the country as a whole wanted prohibition.

National committeemen, who are gathering here for the opening of hearings on contests Monday received with interest today the report of Senator Hiram Johnson's speech at Concord, N. C., in which he denied he would "bolt" the convention if not nominated. The probable attitude of the senator in the event of defeat in the convention has been the source of speculation for weeks along "presidential row" and his pronouncement on the subject was received with visible relief.

Candidates Open Final Drive.

Candidates for the Republican nomination for the presidency today opened their final drive to capture the 493 votes that spell victory in the convention which opens here one week from next Tuesday.

The last of the 284 delegates who will sit in the convention were selected yesterday when Vermont Republicans met and chose eight uninstructed delegates.

Major General Leonard Wood, present returns show, will enter the convention with more instructed delegates than any other candidate, but his total of 155 is less than one-third of the number necessary to win the nomination.

Nomination on First Ballot Unlikely.

The division of strength among the large field of favorite sons practically precludes any possibility of a nomination on the first ballot. Even the most optimistic campaign managers here are not claiming victory before the third ballot, and the more conservative leaders predict a break will not come before the fifth or sixth.

One big factor which may upset campaign managers' predictions is yet to be dealt with. One hundred and forty-five contests have been or will be filed, more than one-seventh of all the seats in the convention being at stake. The national committee, which meets here Monday to decide these contests and prepare the temporary roll, may materially alter the prospects of several candidates.

The principal contests are between supporters of General Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden, Senator Johnson and other candidates are not directly interested in these contests, but may raise questions regarding primary contests in South Dakota, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska and other states.

No Telegraph Wires in Coliseum.

Chicago, May 27.—The Western Union Telegraph company announced today that because of strike threats from electrical workers and carpenters, it would have no wires in the coliseum during the Republican national convention.

As a result, newspaper correspondents and others with messages to send from the coliseum over Western Union wires will have to send their copy to a branch office a block away on Michigan Boulevard.

Work on a branch telegraph office in the coliseum was stopped by order of Charles F. Hall, superintendent of the building. Western Union officials said, after labor leaders had threatened to call a strike of electrical workers and carpenters employed in preparing the building for the convention.

The seating arrangements and new balconies, which add 199 seats to the coliseum's total, were approved, with a few minor changes, by the city building inspector today.

Superintendent Hall made the following statement regarding the wire situation: "I told the Western Union that if they should bring in any non-union men, every man employed on the work in the Coliseum would quit. I did not order the Western Union to stay out. What I did was simply to tell them I

URGES JURY TO CONVICT ODELL GIRL OF MURDER

District Attorney Says Pair Car- ried Out Premeditated Plan in Killing Edward Kneip

Rochester, May 27.—Paul Denver Odell and her husband, James Louis Odell, carried out a premeditated plan in killing Edward J. Kneip on the night of Jan. 6, District Attorney William F. Love told the supreme court jury today in opening the prosecution's case against Mrs. Odell. He added that Mrs. Odell should be convicted of murder in the first degree.

The district attorney described the condition of Kneip's body when it was found. The skull was fractured, he said, and the ears hanging by shreds, indicating a crime of unusual ferocity. Further and more detailed description of the body was made by Dr. Irving E. Harris, coroner's physician, who was put on the stand early today.

Other witnesses for the prosecution today were the Pennsylvania railroad engineer who found the body, and persons living near the spot on the Mosquito Point road where the crime was committed. The latter testified to having seen Odell and his wife near the spot on the afternoon before the crime was committed. They were unable, however, definitely to identify articles of clothing shown to them by attorneys for the defense and said to have been worn by Mrs. Odell and her husband that afternoon.

Confessions alleged to have been made by both to the sheriff on the night of the crime were admitted as evidence late today.

MANDATE REJECTION SEEN AS CERTAINTY

Senate Foreign Relations Com- mittee Votes Against Presi- dent's Armenian Proposal

Washington, May 27.—Declination of an American mandate over Armenia was regarded by leaders of both parties in congress as a certain result of the adverse action taken today by the senate's foreign relations committee.

In response to President Wilson's request of congress for authority to assume for the United States a mandate over Armenia, the senate committee today by a vote of 11 to 4 reported a resolution declaring that "congress respectfully declines to grant to the executive the power asked."

Solid Republican support given the resolution in the committee is expected by leaders to obtain in the senate. One Democrat on the committee, Senator Childs of Tennessee, also opposed the mandate. Of the four Democrats who opposed the resolution—Senators Hitchcock of Nebraska, Williams of Mississippi, Smith of Arizona, and Pittman of Nevada—only one, Mr. Williams, was said to favor the mandate. The other three Democrats opposed the resolution on other grounds and were said not to oppose the President's request on principle.

The resolution is to be brought before the senate for debate and disposal as soon as legislative matters permit, with little doubt entertained by either party as to its adoption.

INTERCOLLEGIATE COMPETITION

Picked Athletes from 28 Institutions Meet Today at Franklin Field, Philadelphia for Sport Events.

Philadelphia, May 27.—Picked athletes from 28 colleges, including Leland-Stanford and the University of California will compete in the forty-fourth meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletic association of America, which begins on Franklin field tomorrow afternoon. Preliminary heats will be held in all track events except the one and two miles contests and elimination trials will take place in the five field events in preparation for the finals on Saturday. There are more than 800 entries.

Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania are favored by the experts and one of the trio is expected by them to carry off the championship, which is now held by the Ithacans. California and Dartmouth are figured on to make a good showing, and the performances of their entrants may cut into the expected high scoring of Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania.

Despite clear warm weather, there were few athletes on Franklin field today for practice.

NO ACTION ON M. E. UNION.

Greensboro, N. C., May 27.—A committee recommendation that no action be taken in regard to the proposed Methodist union was adopted unanimously today by the Methodist general conference. The conference took the view that it is not its duty to take the initiative at this time.

SIMS SAYS NAVY FOLLOWED TIMID COURSE IN WAR

Admiral Begins Efforts to Scuttle Daniels' De- fense of Conduct

COMMENDS PRESIDENT

Navy Should Have Followed "Bold and Audacious" Policy He Outlined, Witnesses Assert

Washington, May 27.—Rear Admiral Sims today began efforts to scuttle Secretary Daniels' defense of the navy department's conduct of the war.

Testifying in rebuttal before the senate naval investigating committee, the admiral declared that the navy department witnesses had revealed conditions in the navy "even more distressing than I could have imagined." He added that these witnesses had presented "a much more serious criticism of the deplorable conditions referred to than I myself had submitted."

Navy Followed "Timid" Policy.

Admiral Sims declared that what Secretary Daniels had described as President Wilson's "bold and audacious" policy for the navy was commendable, but the navy department, instead of following the President's plan as promulgated to the officers and men of the Atlantic fleet in August, 1917, followed a "timid and hesitating" course.

The officer characterized the President's advocacy of operations by the Allied naval forces to bottle up the German submarines in their home ports as "impracticable" in view of certain technical difficulties with which, he said, the President was unfamiliar.

"The sacrifice of half the combined British and American fleets," he added, "would not have been too great a price to pay if it would have suppressed the submarine and ended the war. The attempt would, of course, have been unwise, if, in the opinion of responsible naval experts, it would certainly have failed."

Referring to President Wilson's cablegram to him on July 4, 1917, asking for "independent recommendations," and expressing the belief that the British admiralty was "helpless almost to the point of panic," the admiral said he regarded the message as confidential and not such a criticism of the admiralty as an expression of dissatisfaction with the manner in which the navy department was conducting the war. He said he was surprised that the secretary had made it public.

Says Daniels Made Many Mistakes.

Secretary Daniels' presentation before the committee, Admiral Sims asserted, was remarkable "alike for its mistakes and misinterpretations and for its unrestrained assaults upon my services during the war." He added that some mistakes were to be expected in Mr. Daniels' testimony because it was impossible for any civilian to testify at so great length regarding so highly-technical a subject, but it was hardly to be expected that "the responsible head of the navy should make under oath a statement based on errors of facts and misinterpretations of naval matters."

The admiral quoted from the testimony of officers called by the department which he said had "in almost every case completely bore out the conclusions of my letter of January 7, 1920," which brought about the investigation.

REACH AGREEMENT ON MILK PRICES

Dairymen's League and New York Conference Board Decide on Prices For Four Months

New York, May 27.—The Dairymen's league announced tonight that an agreement had been reached with the New York Milk Conference board fixing prices at which milk will be sold during the four months starting June 1.

Upon the basis of milk testing 3.6 per cent butter fat, the announcement said, the dealers will pay to the producers the following prices per quart: June, 6.55; July, 6.75; August, 7.55; September, 8.25. The farmer will receive four cents per 100 pounds for each one-tenth of one per cent of butter fat in excess of three per cent.

PITCHER SHAWKEY ATTACKS UMP

Clash Causes Excitement at Game Which New York Takes From Boston, 6 to 1.

Boston, May 27. — An assault on Umpire Hildebrand by Pitcher Shawkey of New York in the fourth inning, resulting in Shawkey's receiving a scalp wound from the umpire's mask, created excitement in the first game of the series with the Red Sox today, which New York won, 6 to 1.

Babe Ruth made two home runs, sending the ball once into the right-field bleachers and the second time over the center field fence, thus giving him a total of ten for the season. New York players protested strongly when Hildebrand enabled Boston to make its only tally in the fourth by sending Schang to first on balls with the bases full, forcing in a run. After Harper, the next man up, had been called out on strikes, Shawkey approached the umpire, bowed and doffed his cap in mock thanks. Hildebrand ordered Shawkey out of the game, whereupon Shawkey rushed at the umpire and struck him several times about the head. Hildebrand defended himself with his mask and opened a wound on Shawkey's head. Umpire Evans and Captain Hoover, of the Red Sox, separated the men and conducted Shawkey from the field. ## TRADING IN STOCKS

FALLS BELOW AVERAGE

Undertone of Market Steady to Strong; Profit Taking Reduces Gains

New York, May 27. — Trading in stocks today fell considerably under the recent average, but the undertone of the market was steady to strong. Profit taking and bear pressure materially reduced many gains at the close.

Sentiment among the professional element was favorably influenced by news of the arrival at Pacific coast points of several large consignments of gold from the Orient. This was accompanied by reports that a similar movement from South America may soon set in.

The origin of the gold from the Far East was somewhat obscured, but it is understood the metal will be applied toward payment of the Anglo-French $500,000,000 loan, maturing next October.

Movements of foreign exchange were rather confusing, rates to most of the middle and eastern European centers receding, while bills on London strengthened. The reaction in German and Austrian remittances tended to confirm the belief that the recent advance of marks and crowns was largely due to speculation.

Pools enhanced the dull stock market by advancing prices of various specialties. Oils, motors, steels and equipments were taken in hand at times with rains, shippings and food issues.

WAS PROMINENT STAMFORDITE

George W. Kendall Passes to Rest After Long Illness—Funeral Will Take Place This Morning.

Stamford, May 27.—The death of G. W. Kendall, which occurred on Tuesday evening, while not unexpected, was at the same time a source of grief to the community. No one man of his generation has quite occupied the position of prominence and responsibility that he filled. For years he was a central figure in all local matters, always being found on the side of progress and an ardent champion for civic improvements. His activity in village matters caused him to be called in numerous years to the presidency of the village and also as trustee. In these offices he worked with zeal and fidelity. While desirous of holding the friendship of his fellow men, he never let the fear of unfavorable comment on his actions sway him in his opinions as to the best methods of advancing the welfare of the community. In his position as cashier of the Stamford National bank, he was highly regarded by all patrons for his unfailing courtesy and sterling integrity. This position he held with honor for many years, until his illness caused his retirement, following which he was appointed the chairman of the board of directors, which position he held until the time of his death. Until his illness became so acute as to entirely prevent it, he was in regular attendance on the meetings of that body.

Mr. Kendall was born in Auburn, Mass., the son of Rev. Charles H. and Sarah Elspeth Kendall. His early life was spent in Windham, N. Y., where his father was stationed. In early manhood, he secured a position with a wholesale house in Newark, N. J., from whence he went with the Gilbert Manufacturing company of Bannbridge, N. Y. After a period spent with that company, he was called to Stamford as bookkeeper in the bank and later, on the death of the president, was promoted to the office of cashier. His experience during the years of work in that position gave him a wide range of experience and financial knowledge, from which many benefited from his advice and counsel.

In 1889, he was married to Miss Minnie Fredenberg of Stamford, daughter of Meander Fredenberg, who was at that time president of the Stamford bank.

In 1896, desiring to broaden his work, he began the erection of the large hotel known far and wide as Kendall place, which he and Mrs. Kendall conducted successfully for years up to the time of his death.

Socially, he was a favorite with all his friends, hospitable to the extreme. It was his greatest pleasure to give enjoyment to his many friends and many happy gatherings have been held in the spacious rooms of the Kendall place with him and his wife as hosts.

He had reached his 57th year after an active life, giving greatly of his time and finances to the work of the village and to charitable causes.

He is survived by his wife and a younger brother, Archie G. Kendall, of Mason City, Iowa, who reached here just before his death.

The funeral services will be held on Friday morning at 11 o'clock, new time, from his late home under the direction of Rev. W. D. Cavert of the Presbyterian church, of which body Mr. Kendall was a staunch and dependable member. It is hoped that Rev. Alfred J. Sadler of Jersey City, under whose pastorate Mr. Kendall united with the church, will be present and assist in the ceremonies of the funeral.

Interment will be made in the Stamford cemetery.

HELPING THE FARMER OUT.
That the men who are at the head of big manufacturing industries fully understand the critical condition of the country as regards the production of foodstuffs, a condition which is emphasized by the lack of farm help and the continued drift from country to city, is indicated by the recent action of the directors of the Associated Industries of New York state, who have just issued a statement that the companies represented by them will refuse to hire farm help to work in factories and manufacturing establishments. Moreover they recommend to every member of the association that he refrain from advertising for farm labor.

"One of the most important and pressing problems we face today," says President Barlow of Buffalo, "is the quantity production in foodstuffs on the farm. For the public generally it is more important than any problem facing industrialists. The position of the state association is obvious. We want our members to flatly refuse to hire farm help and, so far as possible, send back to the farm such experienced farm labor as has been lured by high wages into industry. It may help reduce the cost of living."

Members of Associated Industries employ more than one-half of all the factory employees in the state, the greater part of them outside of New York city in the rural and semi-rural districts. It is expected that the association's action will relieve, in some measure, the shortage of farm labor. The attitude of the organization above named is proper and practical; but it is within the bounds of possibility for men who are employed in cities, especially the smaller ones, and in villages, to help out the situation. There is the back-yard garden, or the larger plots on vacant lots, which should every one of them be made available. Moreover, the appeal is not merely to workmen regularly employed, or even to those to whom the money saved by raising a garden will be the first consideration. Every man who has the health and the time should have a garden, and this even if he could buy all his needs without difficulty. To increase the food supply of the country is a duty owed to humanity.

It is not yet too late to plant a garden! REGARDING PROHIBITION. Statistics compiled by the secretary of the State Prohibition commission are announced by him to show that prohibition has had a very substantial effect in reducing crime. Authentic figures for the first three months of this year show that in 17 largest cities and counties there were 45,143 offenders of all ages arraigned in the courts. In the same month of last year there were 68,335, making a reduction of 34 per cent. In the opinion of practically all the judges this remarkable decrease in court work is due mainly to prohibition. In New York city there was a reduction of 52 per cent in cases of public intoxication. In the city of Buffalo in the three months only a third as many offenders were tried, and the number of arrests for drunkenness was reduced from 3,934 to 583 the present year. In Utica arraignments fell off one-half, and in the matter of intoxication there were only 45 cases against 226 last year. The commission finds that whereas the decrease in court arraignments in the courts studied was 34 per cent, the decrease in the number placed on probation was only 26 per cent. This indicates that the probation system is being used in a larger percentage of cases. Reports also show that with the elimination of habitual drunkards and other intoxication cases coming before the court, which nearly always failed when placed on probation, more effective results are being secured by the probation officers. The opinion was almost unanimous among the probation officers that the effects of prohibition are beneficial to their work.

Enlists in Navy. Ralph E. Hisinger of West Oneonta has enlisted in the navy at the local recruiting station for a period of three years, as fireman, third class. After passing final examinations at Syracuse he will be sent to Norfolk, Va.

James Roberson, local recruiting officer, leaves today for Syracuse, to attend a conference at the main recruiting station to be held tomorrow. The conference is to discuss different problems pertaining to the navy and recruiting. He will return Monday. The recent universal increase in pay in the navy is an added attraction among the many offered in the service. Ex-service men will be granted four months' extra pay. Further particulars may be obtained by calling at the local recruiting station, post office building.

COMMENTS OF DAILY PRESS

Not Bolters—But Get There!

Mr. Bryan and Senator Johnson are emphatic in their protestations that they will not bolt. They do not have to bolt. They know better ways of accomplishing the same result. Mr. Bryan did not bolt in 1914. He supported Judge Parker and made speeches. These speeches were the most adroit Republican arguments that the campaign produced, and at least 1,500,000 Democrats remained away from the polls.

Senator Johnson, much as he opposed the nomination of Judge Hughes in 1915, did not bolt. He too remained regular, and as a result of his kind of regularity he carried the state of California by a plurality of 286,815, while Judge Hughes lost the state by a plurality of 3,772.

Bolting is a crude and old-fashioned method of defeating a candidate or a ticket. There is a kind of support that is more deadly than the most vigorous opposition, and both Mr. Bryan and Senator Johnson are masters of it.

There will be plenty of work for the wrecking crews after William J. Bryan and Senator Hiram Johnson have finished with the National conventions of their respective parties. — [New York World.]

Candidate the Platform.

Whatever word-covering is employed, however, the practical Socialist platform is Debs. The issue which the party presents is vindication of those who agitated against the war, even to the point of disregarding the laws and being punished for these efforts to help Germany and defeat America. Any voters who can be fooled by a government-ownership program will be welcome, of course, but the nomination of Debs can have but one meaning. And why on earth do they want him pardoned during the campaign, at least? Does he not stand as a better representative of the position of the Socialist party in this world struggle of democracy against the ambitions of a German autocrat while he is doing time for disloyalty to his country? — [Buffalo Express.]

The facts are that prohibition has swept liquor out of sight in this city, and largely out of mind. It has brought more hard-earned wages into homes every Saturday night than ever before; it has brought clothes and happiness to thousands of families that had scant supply of either while the corner gin-mill was a persistent temptation on the way home. The theatres, the shops, the home, and the pleasure resorts have all benefited. The saloon alone has lost out. — [New York Evening Mail.]

CRISIS IN MILK SITUATION

LEAGUE PRODUCT FOR JUNE NOT SOLD NOR PRICE FIXED.

Dairymen and Milk Dealers Disagree—With Advancing Price of Labor and Grains Farmers Demand Advanced Figure for Product—Offer of Dealers Rejected and Milk May Be Made Up at Home.

There are indications that the trouble which for several months has been brewing between the dairymen and milk distributors relative to the price of milk has now come to a head. Either in the year, during practically every month, in fact, there had been trouble owing to the apparent impossibility of reaching an agreement. In April, after some difficulty, a price was fixed, and this was continued through May, but it has all along been paid by the farmers that the price was too low and that owing to the increase in the cost of labor and grains, milk was being produced at a loss.

The conference between the committee of the dairymen and the distributors, held this week in New York, reached no conclusion as to the price for June milk. The dairymen felt that they could not accept the offer of the distributors, and the latter refused any advance. The matter has accordingly been referred to the farmers; and this week there will be county meetings of the Dairymen's league in many counties in league territory. Meetings of the nearly 1,000 local branches of the league will follow at once.

In Otsego no county meeting will be held. President J. D. Beardslee, who returned home from New York late Wednesday night yesterday announced that the members were thoroughly informed relative to the situation, it having been gone over at three meetings held at Cooperstown recently and at two at New Berlin, while meetings are being held nightly this week in various places throughout the county. Otsego dairymen will, however, withhold their milk commencing Monday next unless officially notified that an agreement has been reached.

In a notice sent out Wednesday the league presents the case as follows:

"The trouble has been brewing for several months. During the winter and early spring league milk was sold on a plan based upon the market prices of butter and cheese. This plan was extremely unsatisfactory to the farmers because it resulted in prices during the fall and winter far below the costs of production. However, notwithstanding that the original plan was unsatisfactory, the dealers came forward in March with demands that the plan then in force should be so revised that the resulting prices would be much lower than by the original plan. This suggestion was made by the milk dealers even though the fact is that the farmers' costs have been mounting steadily and higher. Grain has gone up higher and some kinds of cattle feed have been almost impossible to obtain at any price."

"The same situation exists with farm labor, and hay has reached the highest prices in the history of the industry. Because the prices which have been paid for milk have been too low, the farmers have been unable to buy sufficient grain to keep their cattle in good condition, and they have been obliged to turn them into the pastures this spring in poor condition and long before the pasture and the weather would justify taking the cattle from the stables."

"Because of these conditions, the Dairymen's league was unable to accept the revised plan offered by the dealers, and after several sessions and conferences with the dealers, a price for April of $2.55 per hundred pounds was finally agreed upon. This price was 25 cents lower than the price paid to farmers for the same month in 1919, although the farmers' costs were very much higher in 1920."

"In the negotiations for selling the milk for May, the dealers again came forward with their revised plan which was rejected by the board of directors of the Dairymen's league, who reported that farmers were united in demanding that the price for milk should be determined upon a cost basis, and when necessary, deductions could be made from the cost to allow for market conditions. The milk for May was finally sold for $2.55, the same as the April price."

"When it came to a discussion of the sale of milk for June, two conferences were held, at which market conditions were stated by the dealers, and production conditions were stated by the farmers' representatives. The dealers again proposed that milk be bought on the revised plan, and the league again told them that this plan had been passed upon and rejected by the board of directors. The next day after this last conference was held, the league officers received a telephone communication from the dealers' conference board, which said in effect that the usual negotiations with the Dairymen's league for the sale of milk could no longer be conducted unless the league accepted the dealers' revised plan for selling the milk."

"The Dairymen's league immediately sent out a call for the board of directors and county presidents, who met in New York on Monday and Tuesday. After thorough discussion, the directors again reported that the sentiment in the country was absolutely unanimous that milk should be sold upon a cost basis with adjustments either way to allow for market conditions. They reported that farmers felt that as market conditions had very greatly improved, there was no reason whatever why June milk should not be sold for a cost of production price, which is $2.83 per hundred pounds for three percent milk at the 200-210 mile freight zone."

"The directors also made arrangements to call county and local meetings in every county and community in league territory to acquaint the members with the full facts of the situation and make proper plans for any emergency. No dairymen should miss the meeting called in his own territory."

Town Spelling Contests.

The Otsego township contest, in preparation for the later county contest at Oneonta, which will decide who the competitor in the state contest is to be, was held in the Otsego High school on Thursday. The contest in the town of Unadilla will be held on Tuesday next, the Oneonta township contest on Wednesday and the Milford contest on Thursday.

Notes on New Fire Apparatus.

On Thursday, June 3, there will be a special fire district election at Worcester on the proposition to appropriate $200 for the purchase of a hook and ladder truck and a like amount for new hose. Finish Match Announced for Saturday Evening at the Big Carnival.

Large crowds continue to be attracted to the Carnival given by the Williams Standard shows at Neahwa park for the benefit of the City Firemen and the Oneonta City Land, and there appears no lack of amusement for a late hour each evening. Last evening the weather was delightful for an outdoor festival, and the big Ferris wheel was thronged with riders, while the Whip and the Merry-go-Round also did a thriving business.

The Athletic arena seems the center of attraction for the sportsmen of the city, and while Harrison Greene, the wrestler, who announces himself ready to meet all comers, had been successful with the local artists previously, Lloyd Williams, perhaps the best of the local wrestlers, staid with him for five minutes the first time and ten minutes the second last night. There will be matches tonight, but Saturday night they will go to a finish, the winner to take all save of course the share of the Firemen and the Land. There will doubtless be a crowded arena Saturday night.

The big Big Drome, wherein the daring motorcyclists riding on the straight wall afford plenty of excitement for the visitors who like thrills; the big circus sideshow, with its 15 features; and the big Minstrel show receive their share of the attention of visitors.

Thus far there have been no crooked games pulled and the manager insists that he has not a crook with the show to his knowledge, and that they will go if any are found. There remain but two nights to witness the big carnival, and the local organizations are hoping for record crowds these nights.

Funeral services for the late Benjamin Jane were held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the family residence, 1 Otsego street. His pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Pendleton of the Main Street Baptist church, who officiated, read appropriate passages of scripture and paid a heartfelt tribute to the unselfish spirit and the beautiful Christian life of the deceased, which were an inspiration to all who knew him. ## DEATH OF LYNN J. ARNOLD

WELL-KNOWN ATTORNEY SUC-
CUMES TO ATTACK OF BRON-
CHIAL PNEUMONIA.

Native of Otsego County and Long Prominent Attorney and Bank President at Cooperstown—Later Editor of the Albany Knickerbocker Press.

Judge Lynn J. Arnold, at one time surrogate of Otsego county, until recently president and editor of the Albany Knickerbocker Press and formerly a prominent resident of Cooperstown, died at his home in Albany last evening at 6 o'clock after a two weeks' illness from heart trouble following an attack of bronchial pneumonia. The funeral services, it was expected last evening, although no definite announcement came from the family, will be held at Albany with the interment at Burlington, this county, where for five generations the ancestors of Mr. Arnold have resided.

Announcement of the demise of Judge Arnold will be received with surprise by his many acquaintances in Otsego county, although for the past few months there have been indications that his health was breaking, causing some anxiety to his family and friends. He was for many years a prominent member of the Otsego county bar and in banking circles as well, having been a director of the First National bank of Cooperstown for 21 years and president much of that time, having been succeeded recently by George H. White.

He was born during a temporary residence of his parents in Wisconsin, 54 years ago last September but returned to Burlington when he was seven years of age and spent his boyhood there. He attended the Nichols Springs academy and later he graduated from the Albany Normal college and taught school at Wappinger Falls. He then returned to Cooperstown and studied law in the office of Lynes and Pierce. Upon the death of James A. Lynes or soon after, he having been admitted to the bar, he became a partner with Mr. Pierce under the firm name of Pierce & Arnold.

In 1895 he was elected surrogate of Otsego county and served for one term. Upon resuming the practice of law, he formed a co-partnership with Harris L. Cooke and the firm of Arnold and Cooke for years was recognized as the leading law firm at the county seat, embracing among its clients many of the prominent residents of that village. This firm was dissolved about four years ago.

In May, 1919, Judge Arnold went to Albany and became president of the Press Publishing company, owners of the Knickerbocker Press, a position he held until a few months ago. He also at one time was senior member of the law firm of Arnold, Bender and Hinman in that city. More recently he has been associated with others in a law firm there.

At Cooperstown, Judge Arnold, in addition to his law practice and the presidency of the First National bank, was a director of the Cooperstown Aqueduct association operating the village water system and a vestryman of Christ's church. He was also a member of Otsego lodge, No. 138, F. & A. M. He was active in the Chamber of Commerce and in the promotion of various enterprises there which have contributed to the commercial prosperity of the village.

Mr. Arnold married Miss Euretta E. Babcock of Wappinger Falls, whose acquaintance he formed while teaching there. She with three children, Lynn J. Arnold Jr., president of the Knickerbocker Press company at Albany, he having succeeded his father a few months since, Robert Arnold, connected editorially with the Knickerbocker Press, and Miss Margaret E. H. Arnold, all of Albany, survive him.

What were their profits before, if they can cut 'em 20 to 30 percent now? "It's a very pointed question" and worthy of much thought. Every reduced price clothing sale you see advertised today says this to you, if you read it right. "We were charging too much before." When there's a surplus of merchandise, we'll see a decline in prices. When there's a surplus of labor, we'll see a decline in wages. There's neither now. When the manufacturer is able to show us a lower range of prices we'll be only too glad to pass it on to our customers. The comparatively low prices maintained by this store during the "killing" will be continued till those "higher up" show us a chance to do differently. Straw hats just arrived, we know we're late and have marked them very close to move them quickly. Spencer's. advt 21

Or are you just going to exist, suffering laid up with disease, while you watch millions of others enjoying the season of the year when everyone should get out in the open, should exercise their muscles and should fill their lungs with good, fresh air?

This is the time to prepare yourself for the summer. If you are laid up with disease, if you are crippled with rheumatism, run down so that you cannot walk without a cane, if you have any trouble at all which keeps you from going as you wish to, if you can not eat as you should, to keep all the organs of your body supplied with nourishment, then you should treat yourself at once. Don't wait any longer. Start taking Goldline No. 1 or Goldline No. 2 as your condition requires. Take it now and watch it straighten out and build up your body. Watch yourself feel stronger, better, healthier every day. Watch the color come into your cheeks, the spring into your step and the ambition and desire to do something into your mind. Do all this now, then when the warmer weather comes, get out in the air and sunlight as much as possible and you'll find yourself in a condition you wouldn't believe possible.

Goldline and Fresh Air and Sunlight. The three health builders. Goldline is really the Fresh Air and Sunlight medicine, for it is made of herbs which feed on Nature's nourishment. If you have no friends who have tried the Goldline remedies, write to the Goldline Manufacturing company, Albany, N. Y., and ask for information regarding the medicine. We shall be glad to give you statements of people, probably some from your own city, who have obtained wonderful results from this medicine. Also drop in Slade's Drug store and talk with the druggist about Goldline. He will be glad to explain Goldline to you and you will be under no obligation to him or us. Remember Goldline at Slade's Drug store.

AUTO SPEEDERS ARRESTED.

Local Man and Tourist Pay Fines for Endangering Public Safety.

Two more auto speeders were in police court yesterday morning, for thinking that they could drive as fast as they pleased through the streets of the city. They were Adrian Hogan, who lives on the reservation road and who was apprehended Wednesday night by Police Constable Horton while driving his car at an alleged speed of 38 miles an hour, and Leonard Lewis, a tourist passing through the city, who was arrested yesterday on Chestnut street by Motorcycle Policeman O'Dell.

When arraigned before City Judge Huntington yesterday, Hogan pleaded guilty to the charge, and as he very evidently was driving at a speed entirely incompatible with public safety, the judge fined him $10, which he paid. Lewis was arraigned shortly after his arrest, and was fined $5, after which he proceeded on his way.

Three other motorists were in court yesterday to answer for minor infractions of the traffic laws. They were fined $1 a piece and instructed to watch out for the rules in the future.

Evangelist Cavanaugh.

Rev. John Cavanaugh, a Free Methodist preacher, who used to exhort on the streets hereabouts 25 years ago, is back in Sullivan county again preaching on the streets, says the Jeffersonville Record. "Mr. Cavanaugh is 83 years old and has traveled all over the country. He came here from Walton."

Mr. Cavanaugh in other years was a frequent visitor in Oneonta, and our citizens will be glad to know that, despite advancing years, he is able to do valiant service against the hosts of sin.

JAIL BREAKER CAUGHT AT LAST

HAROLD MONTGOMERY STEPS OUT TRAIN INTO HANDS OF D. & H. DETECTIVES.

Young Who Had Part in Local Overcoat Theft—Last Winter and Who Later Broke Out of City Jail, Is Again in Custody at Albany.

The following news item appeared in last night's Albany Journal:

"Harold Montgomery stepped when he stepped from a train in Albany today that he was going to run two detectives, Andres and Carrick of the Delaware and Hudson police force, who had been watching for him for several months, but this is just what happened. Montgomery was arrested before County Judge Addington on a bench warrant, which charged him with grand larceny. He pleaded not guilty, and his case was adjourned until Saturday to permit him to secure bail."

According to the indictment, Montgomery and James Doran visited the R. Y. M. C. A. some months ago and rifled several lockers. In one locker, it is charged, the pair got a watch and a railroad pass. Later they went to a jewelry store and obtained a gold watch on the strength of the pass. They also secured a suit of clothes, it is said, in the same manner.

A few weeks later, it is charged, they went to Oneonta and stole several overcoats. They were confined in the Oneonta jail, and Montgomery escaped, according to the detectives. Doran is now serving a sentence for his part in the alleged Oneonta crime, and after he is released, he will have to face the Albany charge, and another crime which he is charged with committing on the D. & H. W. railroad.

Doran and Montgomery were indicted by the Albany county grand jury several weeks ago, and a bench warrant was given to Detective Andres for the arrest of Montgomery. Since that time he has been looking for the man, but his efforts were not rewarded until this morning.

Montgomery and Doran were arrested in Oneonta in mid-January on the charge of petty larceny for stealing the overcoats of a traveling man on a D. & H. train entering this city, a guest at the Oneonta hotel, and an Oneonta man who had left his coat in the high school while attending a basketball game. Both pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned and were fined $50 each, which they paid. They were also given a jail sentence, but this was suspended to permit other charges being brought against the pair, as they had been active in other nearby raids.

The pair were placed in the city jail to await the arrival of officers from Binghamton, where they were wanted for some theft, and on the morning of Jan. 29, Montgomery broke out of the jail and gained his freedom. He was later seen walking along the track near Maryland but combined efforts of the Oneonta and D. & H. police departments failed to locate him until yesterday, when he was caught as told in the above item from the Journal.

Montgomery's home is in Albany and Doran's in Valley Falls. Both are 19 years old.
